In the case of failure to file the required report, a 37 penalty is imposed. Under the proposal, the Secretary may prescribe regulations or other guidance as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of the provision, including rules for timing of employment tax deposits. It is intended that the present law rules that apply in the case of household employees continue to apply under the proposal. Relevant thresholds under these rules are also determined with respect to each home care recipient. For example, it is intended that the exception from FICA for domestic service in a private home if cash remuneration paid during the year by the employer to the employee for such service is less than 1,600 ( for 2008 ) would continue to apply. Similarly, FUTA would be required only if the employer paid wages of 1,000 for household service in any calendar quarter in the calendar year or the preceding calendar year. In addition, the present law exception from Federal income tax withholding for household employees would continue to apply. Effective Date The proposal is effective for amounts paid after December 31, 2008. 37 The section 6723 present law penalties are increased under another section of the bill. Under that proposal, the penalty of 50 per report ( not to exceed 100,000 per calendar year ) is increased to 100 per report ( not to exceed 1,500,000 per calendar year ). 13 This item ships from La Vergne,TN.
